Councillors 'kept in the dark' over Woodmead Halls plans

By Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

SOME town councillors are being "treated like mushrooms and kept in the dark", one member has said after failing to be informed of proposed developments at the Woodmead Halls, Lyme Regis, before it was published in the press.

Councillor Owen Lovell made the accusations after receiving a "confidential" memo about possible plans to move LymeNET and Lyme Regis Library to the Woodmead Halls site that morning (Wednesday) - the same morning it was published on the front page of last week's View From Lyme Regis.

He said he believed some councillors had known about the plans, backed by Lyme Regis Development Trust, for some time and complained that no minutes were being produced from the regular chairmen's meetings – when chairmen of all council committees meet in private.

> "Some councillors are being treated like mushrooms and kept in the dark."

"Some councillors did know about this," he said.

"I won't say who but I think it is quite a few. Some of us are being treated like mushrooms, kept in the dark and fed bull* to be quite honest."

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, said that she agreed saying it was confidential was now "ridiculous" and if she knew it was going to be in the press she wouldn't have sent the note.

The town clerk, Mike Lewis, added that if the chairman of the Strategy and Policy Committee, Councillor Mark Gage, would be willing, which he had previously said he was, minutes of the chairmen's meetings could be made.

Councillor Chris Clipson said: "I also this morning received the same memo and it's the first time I had heard of it."

He said he resented "quite strongly" any implication that he knew before.

Councillor Anita Williams said she knew about the plans because of her involvement in the library.

"Some of us knew about it because we have other roles within the town," she added.

She didn't think it concerned the town council at this stage but said it would be coming to council in the future.

Councillor Lovell argued that the town council was the landowner and therefore it did concern them.

THE RIGHT TO KNOW: Councillor Owen Lovell argued that all councillors should have been told of the Woodmead Halls plans earlier

He added: "I think some considerable time ago the possibility of this was discussed and it was only three weeks ago, I think, that we gave permission for the Woodmead Halls Management Committee to look at building on that land, and some councillors knew at that time about this."

He referred to the Woodmead Halls Management Committee's own plans to create another hall on the side of the existing building, which would take eight car parking spaces. The committee was recently given permission by the town council to investigate this further, but no mention was then made of the development trust's extended plans for the site.

Councillor Lovell added: "I, as a councillor, also have a right to know."

Councillor Lucy Campbell, manager of LymeNET, which is a subsidary of the development trust, said: "It's very interesting. I would also like to know who these people are. As manager of LymeNET I didn't even known anything until this morning."

She said it was very much between the development trust and Woodmead Halls.

Councillor Lovell continued: "Someone on this council should have informed us of what was going on."

Councillor Williams said: "I don't know where you have got the idea that meetings have been going on for a very long time. We have just had initial discussions. You were told this morning."

She said that the council shouldn't get involved in "petty" discussions over who knew what.

"I also resent that you say there are all these covert things going on. Initial talks have been held between relevant organisations. If you want to get involved, get involved with one of these groups," she added.

The development trust's plans, which they say are in the very early stages, envisage a two-storey extension on the eastern side of the halls, providing long-term security for the library and LymeNET. The extension would also include a third hall, cafeteria and outdoor decked seating area, costing an estimated £1million.

Despite being raised by Councillor Lovell, the plans were not on the agenda to discuss at last week's meeting but are expected to be at this month's Strategy and Policy Committee meeting on October 31st.

PAUL VIOLET is Superintendent for Bridport Cemetery, living in a lodge in the graveyard with his wife and daughter. Born in Drimpton, the 47-year-old has lived his whole life in the area, moving to Bridport when he married 25 years ago. As well as caring for the cemetery, Paul has been responsible for the running of the Town Hall Clock for four years.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

■ DO you enjoy the job?

I love it. March, April walking to walk through the banks of primroses and daffodils it's just fantastic. I see the buds get fatter and fatter and then a few pop and overnight the rest come out. You see nature day-to-day and it's brilliant. The wildlife is fantastic.

■ WHAT does the job entail?

I look after the grounds, do the maintenance and liaise with the undertakers for new burials. I dig the small ashes-graves, 2ft by 2ft. We get the machine in to do the full internment graves.

If we have a re-opener – a burial that's going to take place in an existing grave – then you've got to double-check, triple-check to make sure you are in exactly the right place.

■ DO many people visit the cemetery?

Some days you might not see anybody. Other days people come in and out all the time.

Now, because of the TV programme Who Do You Think You Are? more people are delving into family history so want to find where their relatives are buried. So I spend quite a lot of time looking for burial plots for relatives that have come from all over England, all over the world. I've had people from New Zealand, South Africa Canada, all over.

It's not very often we can't find the grave, albeit some don't have a headstone because they were never purchased so it's a common grave. But if the name's in the book I can find them in the grounds.

■ IS it spooky to live and sleep in a cemetery?

No it's not. The dead aren't going to hurt you are they? Quite often I'll come out here of an evening and just have a wander. It's peaceful. I wouldn't say I believe in ghosts, but you never know do you?

■ HOW did you get to be responsible for the clock?

It was by chance. I went into get a suit one day and Roger Snook used to look after it. It's a voluntary thing. He'd offered to look after it for three months and ended up doing it for 11 years.

He was looking for someone to take it on. When I said I'd do it his eyes lit up and he said "I'll meet you at the town hall clock and I'll show you what to do."

■ IS it a lot of work?

The first few years it wasn't too bad, but it always gained a few minutes every few weeks so I was always up here adjusting the time.

Then when we had all the work done on the Town Hall there were lots of issues because I had to stop the clock when the scaffolders were up there and every 15 minutes the workers were getting an earful.

When the scaffolding came down everybody was moaning because the clock wasn't going: I was on holiday. When I got back and restarted it the painters had moved the hands round so we had problems. That was when the clock stopped at the start of the year.

■ WHAT was wrong with it?

It took me a hours and hours to sort out. It turned out to be a very tight bearing and since then we've had it looked at and repaired. Now it runs really well. I haven't touched it since July and it's keeping good time. In spite of what people might think it is accurate to my watch which I set to the speaking clock every day.

■ DOES it need winding?

No it's wound with electric now. But back when they had a clock winder he used to have to come in a side entrance and up a spiral staircase. The entrance is still there next to where the ladies toilet used to be.

■ DOES the clock really strike 13 on new year's eve?

Yes it's a tradition in Bridport. As far as I know it's always been like that. I know it's 13 strikes because it's me up there in the clock tower New Year's eve doing it. The mechanism is on silent at night so I have to do it by hand.

■ THE clocks go back this weekend. Will you be adjusting the Town Hall clock?

Yes. I'll go into town Saturday and at about 11 o'clock I'll stop the clock and go to the pub for an hour. Then I'll go back and restart it. That's about the science of it!

■ HOW much do you enjoy your roles in the town?

I love it. For quite a few years of your life you're around the town and you feel you're like everybody else – you're taking things from the community. But now working for the town council you are putting things back into the community. And Bridport is a lovely vibrant town.

I have always loved Bridport. When I left school three was never any chance of me working anywhere else apart from here. Bridport has been a good town for me and now I'm putting a lot back into the town, which is really good.

■ WHO would you have round for dinner?

Isambard Kingdom Brunel, The Apollo crew who landed on the moon and my grandparents who all died when I was in my early teens. I'd love to hear their stories.

Lyme forges links with HMS Edinburgh

by Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

THE Mayor of Lyme Regis has been made an affiliate of HMS Edinburgh following the ship's visit to the town in May.

The Type 42 Destroyer visited Lyme Regis for a pre-Diamond Jubilee celebration and the Commander and crew took part in the memorable Jubilee Pavilion naming ceremony. Residents and local dignitaries were also invited aboard, while the crew enjoyed a welcome reception in the Guildhall, gig races and a football match.

Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, has now been made an affiliate of the ship and is looking to form a Lyme's Friends of Edinburgh group.

Having kept in touch with Commanding Officer, Captain Nick Borbone, Councillor Holman was invited to an Affiliates Day at Portsmouth recently, where the ship was undergoing final preparations before deployment.

She said: "Lyme reacted with great enthusiasm to the spectacular visit of HMS Edinburgh, the part they played in our naming ceremony, and the way some of the ship's company joined in activities in town and made friends here.

"I was keen that we would share the final deployment of this splendid ship, and was delighted when I received an email from the Captain telling me about training in Plymouth, to be followed by a return to Portsmouth and a period of leave for the crew and saying that he had made me an official affiliate. I was also delighted to accept an invitation to an Affiliates Day at Portsmouth where the ship was undergoing final preparations for the deployment.

"September 13th was a perfect day, weather, sea conditions, hospitality and an experience at sea which I will never forget. Although a large vessel, she maneuvered almost like a RIB but without the bumps, executed tight circles and zig-zags and accelerated to 30 knots smoothly - amazing!

"The defensive weapons were fired, we watched from the bridge wings and her helicopter joined in the exercises. We were hosted by Petty Officer Mac, who showed us the radar turret where he tracks incoming and outgoing missiles, and Chief Warfare Officer Kevin, who remembers being a guest at a party on the Cobb, among other things.

"Standing behind the Captain as they brought the ship back into Portsmouth was a fantastic experience. The pilot does not take over like on a commercial vessel, the Captain maintains command, and the tugs were so effective. I enjoyed every moment."

The Mayor was accompanied on her trip by harbourmaster Grahame Forshaw, MBE, who played a key role with harbour staff during the visit of HMS Edinburgh to Lyme. They presented Commanding Officer Borbone with a Richard Austin photograph of the harbour in a winter gale.

Councillor Holman is now looking to form a Friends group and would like to send presents to the crew.

She added: "The next step is to get together some presents to send the ship, not cakes and goodies, which I understand are well supplied by the families of her ship's company, but maybe some reminders of Lyme, which I am advised will be appreciated."

The Mayor said she hoped to include the "Jubilee Lyme" book and DVD, which includes clips of the Jubilee Pavilion naming ceremony, as well as messages for Christmas, which the crew will be spending in the Falklands.

Councillor Holman continued: "I am setting up a small 'Lyme's Friends of Edinburgh' group as I know many others were thrilled by this ship. We are making a video of Edinburgh's May visit and will be interviewing some of the gig club rowers, RNLI crew, footballers, hosts and individuals who were involved.

"If you are keen to contribute or can offer some expertise, do get in touch saying how you might be able to help. Any admin help will be appreciated. Of course we will continue to be in touch with our Affiliation Officer by email."

Those interested in joining the group should email the Mayor at sally.cobblyme@btinternet.com

Council updated on affordable housing scheme

TOWN councillors have been given an update on the setting up of a Community Land Trust, which could provide more affordable housing for Lyme Regis.

Councillors listened to an update by volunteer Dennis Yell at last week's full council meeting. Mr Yell is one of four volunteers working on the project, alongside Keith Jenkin, Keith Shaw and Ray Smith.

He said: "We are all aware of the overall shortage of affordable housing in the UK and it's a particular problem for small communities such as Lyme Regis."

Mr Yell said providing affordable housing was a complicated process and new problems often arise, meaning you take "five steps forward and sometimes six back".

However, the volunteers are hopeful that a Community Land Trust will provide the answer. The trust will be a community-run organisation, which owns land used for the benefit of the community.

Mr Yell said: "None of us can underestimate the effort that will be needed. It will need hard work and dedication."

He said they would welcome any more volunteers interested in the project and would return to council with a formal presentation further down the line.

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, said that it was a "very interesting project".

Councillor Mark Gage thanked Mr Yell for his update and emphasised the need for rented affordable housing.

"The provision for affordable housing for rent is very dear to my heart and to most other councillors here. There's a desperate need to replenish the housing stock to home our young families."

Councillor Barbara Austin added: "I hope there will be a stipulation that any affordable housing will go to the young people of Lyme Regis because they have been treated so badly.

"People come from all over – from Dorchester – and they don't want to be in Lyme Regis but that's the only place they can get a home, and local people can't."

Mr Yell said this was one of the volunteers' main priorities.

Council's concern over slippery paving

A TOWN councillor has emphasised the urgency in getting the slippery, stone-coloured paving replaced in Broad Street, Lyme Regis.

Councillor Terry O'Grady said that Dorset County Council had previously agreed to get rid of the sections of dangerous paving and re-tarmac the pavement but nothing had been done.

Councillor O'Grady said he did not want to see "one of our residents injured before it gets replaced".

County councillor Colonel Geoffrey Brierley took his concerns on board and said they could look at it again during his upcoming tour of the town to look at highways issues.

Students' Oxjam event raises £200

BUSINESS studies students from the Woodroffe School in Lyme Regis celebrated national fundraising event Oxjam with their own event at the Marine Theatre. The first ever Lyme Regis Oxjam Music Festival proved to be a great success for all involved. Student Sebastian Boards, who acted as project manager, said: "I thought it was a very successful event and we all worked very well together to get it to run smoothly. We hope that it will leave a legacy for future Oxjam events in the area." Teacher Martin Banfield added: "I am really pleased at how professionally the students organised the event and it's been a valuable learning experience for them all." The event raised £200 for Oxfam and the students (some pictured above) are very grateful to everyone who attended and supported the event. They would also like to thank all the bands, Boy le Monti, Bag of Rats and The Devil's Rejects for providing entertainment for free.

CLOTHING store Seasalt is expected to start work on its new branch in Lyme Regis soon.

The clothing chain, which has several stores across the South West, is expected to open in the former premises of The Toby Jug in Broad Street.

A statement from director Leigh Chadwick said: "We will be opening our store in Lyme Regis as soon as we can and we're very excited about it. The building is listed and we've always taken great care in the way we restore and fit out our stores. In fact, this was recognised by Restormel Borough Council with a design, conservation and environmental award for the regeneration of our Fowey shop.

"We are currently working with the local conservation and planning offices in Lyme Regis to make sure our plans meet with their approval and we will be commencing the restoration and fit out as soon as we have their permission.

"We have also recently acquired a new store in Sidmouth and this will be opening soon too."

Mayor gives special thanks to hard-working town crier

by Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

TOWN crier Alan Vian and wife Lynne received a personal thanks from the Mayor of Lyme Regis for their efforts during the summer events.

Mr and Mrs Vian were thanked by Mayor Sally Holman at last week's full council meeting for their role in many of the major events during the summer months. Despite still being in his first year as town crier, and suffering a broken ankle, Mr Vian threw himself into helping with the organisation of many events, including Lifeboat Week, Regatta and Carnival Week, the Diamond Jubilee celebrations and the Olympic Torch Relay, for which he organised a team of about 100 volunteer marshals, always supported by his wife, Lynne.

Councillor Holman said: "I want to express our particular thanks to Alan and Lynne Vian. Thanks for, apart from your role as town crier, your role in organising many events during summer. I don't think many people realise the amount of paperwork put into these events which you do time and time again."

Adressing Mrs Vian, the Mayor thanked her again saying she had an "equally prominent supporting role".

The couple were then presented with a "Jubilee Lyme" book and DVD, commemorating all the events which took place to celebrate the jubilee in June, which Mr and Mrs Vian were heavily involved with.

Mr Vian said: "There's lots of people in Lyme Regis who do lots of things and I'm just a part of that."

He added that the town had enjoyed an "amazing summer", and despite the poor weather only three events were cancelled.

Mr Vian said that the Mayor, councillors and council staff were a "credit to the town".

Confusion over seafront cycling enforcement

QUESTIONS have been raised over whether the no cycling rule on Marine Parade in Lyme Regis will be enforced, following the replacement of a "no cycling" sign.

The "no cycling" sign, which has been missing for sometime, is now being replaced and the issue of enforcing it was raised by former councillor, Peter Williams, at last week's full town council meeting.

Mr Williams said: "You have asked for the no cycling sign to be placed on Marine Parade, can you ask for enforcement to go alongside it?"

Councillor Owen Lovell raised the issue again later in the meeting. He asked if the sign was going to be officially enforced.

Councillor Chris Clipson said to do this the council would have to create a by-law, which would come at a cost.

Councillor Lovell said: "I read in the paper that the town clerk said there was already an order for no cycling on Marine Parade. Is there an order or isn't there?"

Town clerk Mike Lewis confirmed that there was a Dorset County Council prohibition order from some years ago but they were unable to enforce this themselves, it was a police matter. Following the recent tripartite agreement between town, district and county authorities, the town council is now responsible for the management of Marine Parade and could therefore enforce no cycling by creating its own by-law.

Councillor Lovell said he didn't see the point of having enforcement officers if they were unable to enforce things.

■ FOOTNOTE: Councillors recently agreed not to create a cycle path on the Cart Road or Marine Parade. Following disagreement on the matter in the council chamber and mixed reactions from the public, it was agreed instead to leave the situation as it was, which is as follows: cycling is permitted on the Cart Road up to the barrier outside Rinky Tinks, where cars are also permitted to drive; there is no order for or against cycling on the newer part of the Cart Road beyond the barrier; cycling is prohibited on Marine Parade.

Charmouth Cubs under threat of closure if new leader not found

THE 1st Charmouth Cub Pack is appealing for a new leader and could face closure if no one is found by the end of the year.

The pack, which has 15 members living in Charmouth and the surrounding villages, has been searching for a new leader for seven months, but has drawn a complete blank. In a last ditch effort to encourage someone to step forward, the cubs will now be putting up as many posters as possible in the local area highlighting their plight, using the photo of them shown above.

"We've been appealing for someone to take over from our current cub leader, Toni Green, since April when she advised us she would be stepping down in July," said Kevin Payne, the Scouter-in-Charge.

"As no one had come forward before the summer break, Toni kindly agreed to stay on for one more term, but with the end of the year looming, things now look fairly bleak."

"The job of running the cub pack has been made a great deal easier as we recently established a rota of keen parent helpers, and any new leader will enjoy the full support of the scout troop leader team while they learn the ropes.

"Furthermore, full training is provided, the Scout Headquarters website is full of creative ideas and other local cub packs have offered to pass on their winning programme ideas."

If no one responds to the cubs' poster appeal, steps will be taken to see if the group can be transferred to any of the other packs in the area in the New Year.

Mr Payne added: "Doing this would be very disappointing as having no cubs will eventually threaten the viability of the scout troop, and hence the whole survival of a scout group in Charmouth."

Anyone interested in finding out what's involved should contact Kevin Payne on 01308 459080 or payne.kevin6@gmail.com

Parking loss out of propotion with district council's figures

by Francesca Evans
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR has been looking into the drop in car parking income in Lyme Regis, after questions were raised on the subject last month.

Town and district councillor, George Symonds, has been looking further into the fall in income from car park charges and parking ticket fines at the town council-owned Woodmead Halls and Cabanya car parks.

Councillor Symonds originally raised questions about the £33,613 fall in car park charges at last month's Strategy and Policy Committee, which was put down to bad weather, and the £3,967 decrease in parking penalties. He asked if parking penalties were being followed up and was told they definitely were.

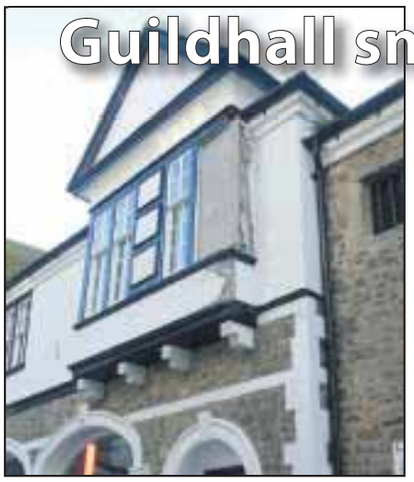
Other councillors argued that if the number of people using the car parks was down, the number of parking penalties would also decrease, but Councillor Symonds said he wasn't sure the figures matched up.

He has now been comparing Lyme's fall in car parking income with West Dorset's. In his absence, Councillor Symonds' progress was reported by fellow town and district councillor Daryl Turner at last week's town council meeting.

He said: "George has been chasing the number of parking fines in West Dorset District Council car parks. It is actually up on last year so not consistent with our figures.

"Their parking charges are down 2 per cent while ours is 15 per cent so again quite a difference there that he will be chasing up."

Guildhall smashed again!



LYME Regis Town Council is appealing for information after an articulated lorry smahed into the Guildhall window causing "significant damage".

It is thought a blue articulated lorry hit the over-hanging window on Church Street between 7am and 8am on Thursday morning.

The window of the 1887 Guildhall poses a continuous problem for the council and is often damaged by passing large vehicles. This is the second incident of its kind this year.

Deputy town clerk John Wright said the lorry had damaged the window and frame. He did not know how much repairs would cost but said: "It will not be insignificant. We have to gain access to the window, resecure the frame and build new sashes."

He added that if anyone had any information on the incident the council would be grateful to hear from them.

It is not yet known when repairs will take place but it is expected that the road will have to be closed for the work.

Weather station not necessary, says councillor

A TOWN councillor has asked why it is necessary for a weather station to be installed on the harbourmaster's office.

Speaking at last week's full council meeting, Councillor Daryl Turner asked why the Tourism and Economic Development Committee had been looking into the provision of a weather station, which would continuously feed the town website with information.

The weather station was originally a suggestion of local traders, including Murray Saunders of Boylo's Watersports on Marine Parade. Mr Saunders and other traders, including Tony Colston of By The Bay and Lesley Stone of the Royal Lion, agreed to pay for the equipment in return for free advertising on the weather page on the website.

However, Councillor Turner said: "I don't see why, when you have the MET office a few miles down the road, a harbourmaster who is probably more qualified than anyone on this and your iPhones with the weather on them, I just don't see why you want another one."

Chairman of the Tourism and Economic Development Committee, Councillor Lorna Jenkin, said that fishermen and watersports enthusiasts were very keen to have the information updated "minute by minute".

"This is not available anywhere else along the coast," she added.

Toilets and cafe in the gardens?

A PROBING question was raised at last week's town council meeting over whether proposals had been put forward for a toilet block and café in Lister Gardens, Lyme Regis.

Councillor Daryl Turner asked at last week's full council meeting whether the Town Management Committee had heard about any proposals for a toilet block development in the gardens.

Chairman of the Town Management Committee, Councillor Chris Clipson, said: "I have no knowledge of it at all."

Councillor Turner then asked the town clerk Mike Lewis if he had heard anything.

Mr Lewis replied: "It has not been discussed by the council."

Councillor Turner said: "Has it been discussed by the staff then?"

Mr Lewis: "I think an individual has spoken to one or two councillors."

Councillor Turner said he was asking because he had heard that such a proposal had been made to the town clerk.

"If is was it should come to council," he added.

Councillor Owen Lovell said a similar proposal was put to council several years ago.

Thanks for Phase IV

DISTRICT councillors Daryl Turner and George Symonds have received praise for the work they put into getting Phase IV of the coastal protection works in Lyme Regis approved.

The works will protect the east side of town from further landslips for at least 60 years.

Speaking at last week's full council meeting, Church Cliff resident Derek Hallett thanked Lyme's district councillors for their hard work, adding: "I would like to think the council will back them 100 per cent and not put any obstacles in their way."

Restaurant winging it for the skatepark

■ FISHY FUNDRAISER: Richard Benson and Jess Hodder of the Millside Restaurant with the skate wing dish

THE Millside Restaurant in Lyme Regis has raised almost £100 for the Skatepark Development Fund by selling a special dish.

The restaurant, on Mill Lane, has been serving skate wing with £1 from each dish sold going to the fund.

The idea started during Skatepark Week last month and has now raised almost £100, with owners Jess Hodder and Richard Benson planning to continue serving the dish up until Christmas.

Miss Hodder said: "I'm a member of an old Lyme family and together with my fiancee, Richard Benson, wanted to support the fundraising for Lyme's long overdue skatepark.

"My family are fishermen and we have decided to donate a pound to the fund for each portion of skate that we sell, as an appropriate way to draw attention to the project and to raise some much needed funds."

A popular couple in Lyme Regis, Jess and Richard previously managed the Royal Standard and are now co-owners of the Millside Restaurant, with Jess running front of house and Richard in the kitchen.

The restaurant is fast earning a widespread reputation for its locally sourced cooking.

Mr Benson added: "We use local produce wherever possible and our skate wings come directly from Lyme Bay. We serve them in caper butter with fennel mash and it's one of the most popular dishes on both our lunch and evening menus."

The Millside, consistently listed as Lyme's number one restaurant on reviews website Trip Advisor, is open for lunch and dinner every day except Sunday evening and Mondays.

The skatepark is hoped to be built in Charmouth Road Car Park, with lots of fundraising for the project currently being undertaken.

The successful Skatepark Week last month raised almost £3,000, much of which was made from a harvest home at the Nag's Head. The pub's weekly Cheese Club is now also raising funds for the project.

Skateboarding enthusiasts attended a design consultation where six designs went on show.

Councillor Lucy Campbell, who is leading the project, said they were now ready to move forward with the next stages of the project, including choosing the final design before holding further talks with planners and consulting with Charmouth Road residents.

Speed bumps 'not appropriate' for Timber Hill

SPEED bumps will not be introduced to Timber Hill in Lyme Regis, despite a petition from residents asking for the measures to deal with speeding drivers.

A petition from residents was recently submitted to Dorset County Council.

Speaking at last week's town council meeting, however, county councillor Colonel Geoffrey Brierley said that speed bumps would not be introduced as a road survey in July had proved vehicles were actually driving slower than in 2009, and no accidents had been recorded.

He said speed bumps would "not be appropriate".

Colonel Brierley suggested that the police visit the area with their speed gun and said a site had been found for the town council's Speed Indicator Device to be installed on Timber Hill, which might encourage drivers to slow down.

Later in the meeting, Councillor Daryl Turner requested that a plan be made for the Speed Indicator Device, which he said the council had spent a lot of money on and it spent most of its time "locked away in the cupboard".

Schoolchildren raise enough funds for two lifeboat trips

SAVING LIVES AT SEA: Children of All Saints Primary School with lifeboat crew member Garry Gibbs holding the cheque, acting head Martin O'Mahony and school governor David Weatherly PUPILS at All Saints Primary School, near Axminster, raised funds for the RNLI during their harvest festival – enough money to pay for the lifeboat's fuel on two shouts.

The youngsters presented a cheque for £75 to long-serving Lyme Regis lifeboat crew member Garry Gibbs on Wednesday. Mr Gibbs told the children: "Every donation is important to our charity, and this one would literally help our lifeboat to go to sea on two emergency calls by covering the cost of fuel."

Acting headmaster Martin O'Mahony said: "The children wanted to raise money for the RNLI because they were thinking of the harvest we get from the sea and how fishermen are often helped by the lifeboat crew."

Lifeboat's shortest ever trip

● A COUPLE who had been stranded by the high tide on the North Wall of Lyme Regis harbour were rescued on Monday night by the lifeboat crew.

The man and his wife had been stranded for two hours and were suffering the effects of cold.

The middle-aged couple were taken to the lifeboat station where they were wrapped in blankets and given hot drinks until an ambulance crew arrived.

The lifeboat's deputy launching authority, Garry Gibbs, said: "The coastguards were unable to reach the couple safely because of the high tide, the current, and darkness so they called us out just after 9pm for one of our shortest trips across the harbour.

"The couple were very cold and drenched by the torrential rain.

"The coastguards and our crew looked after them in the lifeboat station. They were then seen by the ambulance crew who later returned them to their address in Beer accompanied by coastguards.

"The couple had fishing rods with them and it looks as if they simply lost track of time and didn't realise the high tide was coming in."

Reindeer to visit the Christmas pud race

NOTHING says Christmas like the velvet nose and iconic set of antlers of a real live reindeer.

Children who have never seen a reindeer before will be thrilled to learn that a pair of Santa's sleigh pullers are coming to the town for The Great Lyme Regis Christmas Pudding Race, to be held on the seafront on Saturday, December 15th.

The reindeer, named Cupid and Snowflake, are being supplied by Somerset Reindeer Hire which specialises in taking the iconic Christmas animals to festive events around the region. They will be spending around two hours as part of the ancillary entertainment at the pudding race.

Said organiser Philip Evans: "I can't remember ever seeing reindeer in Lyme Regis before and I am sure they will be a great hit with the children."

Children's cartoon favourite Peppa Pig will also be putting in an appearance and the organisers are hoping to have a Peppa Pig bouncy castle as well.

There will also be a Santa's Grotto at the event so children can put in their request for Christmas presents in a special post box.

Other entertainment at the pudding race will include a Zumba warm-up with Nicky Sweetland, a Christmas Pudding rodeo ride and an appearance by local performer Ben Kapur who will be singing Christmas songs.

There will also be a mince pie bake off and an attempt on the mince pie eating world record.

Uplyme council chairman hands in shock resignation

CHAIRMAN of Uplyme Parish Council, Keith Killingback, unexpectedly resigned at this month's meeting citing "personal reasons".

He has stood down as chairman and from the council altogether.

Mr Killingback joined Uplyme Parish Council in May 2011, following the resignation of Beryl Denham, and was quickly appointed chairman. He is also Deputy Mayor's Consort of Lyme Regis as the husband of town councillor Anita Williams.

Uplyme's vice-chairman Peter Whiting took Mr Killingback's place at the recent October meeting and a permanent chairman will be elected in November.

The well-attended meeting started with a proposal on the relocation of Mrs Ethelston's Primary School to land adjacent to Uplyme Village Hall. The relocation is currently undergoing consultation and an outline planning application is expected to be submitted shortly.

Councillor Whiting gave a summary of the research the council's Flood Working Group had been carrying out. He reported that a comprehensive plan could cost £250,000 but in the mean time, there were various improvements that could be made.

■ RESIGNED: Keith Killingback has stepped down from Uplyme Parish Council for personal reasons

Councillors voted to reinstate the playground protection works using Section 106 money, which is offered by local developments, and would be in touch with the King George Playing Field Trustees about their part of the work.

Parish clerk Lois Wakeman has said that many local parishes do a lot of self-help work to protect their village from flooding and Uplyme can help itself too. Volunteers are being sought to give practical help with tasks like clearing the leat between Lyme Road and Hackers Mead. Those interested should contact the clerk or one of the councillors.

A full report of the Flood Working Group is on the "News" page of the council's website www.uplymeparishcouncil.org. This covers all the problem areas in Uplyme.

Planning applications were also considered with the council finding no objections to the following:

Retention of first floor roof terrace and railings at East Marches, Launchycroft;

Alterations and extension at Hele Lane Cottage, Rhode Lane;

Tow-storey side extension and dormer windows at Hunters Croft, Charmouth Road.

The remainng application to fell a cherry tree, ratain the stump and young growth at 11 Glebelands was not received in time for consideration, and the parish clerk will try to get an extension so it can be discussed next month.

Full details on planning applications can be viewed on the website www.uplymeparishcouncil.org

Top recorder player to visit Lyme

THE recorder is often just associated with the first music making of young children but it is an instrument in its own right and is becoming increasingly popular.

It is used for playing authentic renaissance and baroque music, such as Byrd, Bach or Handel, right up to contemporary music, such as Staeps.

Since buying the former Victoria Hotel on Uplyme Road, Lyme Regis, in 2007 Josee Beeson has been running residential recorder courses for adults. Just two courses were held during the first year but, due to their rising popularity, 23 courses will be held at Victoria House this year.

■ RECORDER player Matthias Maute

As well as tutors from the UK, Josee is attracting tutors from across Europe, where the recorder is already treated more seriously as an instrument. This October she is bringing one of the world's leading composers and performers, Matthias Maute, to Lyme to run two four-day workshops and appear at the Church of St Michael and St George in Silver Street.

The concert will be held on October 28th at 4pm.

Matthias has released over 15 CDs, has performed extensively around the world and won numerous competitions but most people won't realise quite what a coup it is to get Matthias Maute to perform in Lyme.

Full details of the concert are available on the website www.recordercourseslyme.com and tickets are available online or from the Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre - phone 01297 442138.

Police candidate comes to town

CONSERVATIVE candidate for the Police Crime Commissioner for Dorset, Nick King, will visit Lyme Regis on Friday, October 26th and Saturday, October 27th.

An open public meeting with Mr King will take place on the Friday at the Woodmead Halls from 7pm to 9pm.

Mr King (pictured right), who wants to ensure local people have a say in policing priorities, will then be in Broad Street from 10am on the Saturday, ready to speak to local residents about policing issues.

Mr King has lived in the Bournemouth and Poole area for over 15 years. He is a member of Dorset Police Authority and a past Governor of Poole Hospital. He also served on Bournemouth Borough Council until last month.

More details about the candidate can be viewed online on the website http://www.nick4dorsetpcc.org.uk

Learning skills in digital photography

CLUBS NEWS
Lyme Bay Photographic Club

THE most recent meeting of Lyme Bay Photographic Club was well attended by members and visitors who were keen to learn more about their digital cameras.

One of the aims of the club is to facilitate provision of technical advice and assistance. John Marriage, a local photographer, was invited to show everyone how to get the best from their digital cameras.

Initially, he explained how a digital camera works in a language that could be understood by everyone. The group was then given the opportunity to test this out on still life scenarios. Everyone had the time to experiment with their cameras and adjust settings and lighting to get the best from their photographs.

The group then examined their photographic results whilst Mr Marriage explained how the image could be improved. He provided useful tips on how to avoid reflection in shiny objects, how to rectify a distortion by focussing correctly and outlined how the use of a tripod reduces hand-held camera shake.

The photographs taken on the evening were a test bed and from those greater things will develop.

If you too would like to learn more about photography, new members are always welcome.

For more information please contact the chairman John Wallis on 01297 444733 or visit the club website www.lymebayphotographicclub.org

Open meeting to see new plans for Woodmead Halls

THE Woodmead Halls, Lyme's premier community meeting venue, celebrates its 30th anniversary on Friday.

Representatives of local organisations are being invited to the celebration party to hear how the halls have been developed since being opened in 1982.

The invitation list has been extended to include all interested residents following the news, exclusively revealed in last week's View from Lyme Regis, that plans are being drawn up for the possible move to the Woodmead Halls site of the county library and community learning centre, LymeNet.

Consultant David Gale, who is working with Lyme Regis Development Trust on the project, will give a presentation on the proposal to build a two-storey extension to the existing building which will also include the provision of a third hall and a cafeteria as part of the halls' five-year development plan.

£1 million-plus project

The plans have not yet been fully costed but is expected that the project will cost in excess of £1 million.

Mr Gale met members of the Woodmead Halls Management Committee, led by Stan Williams, on Monday evening to explain the plans in more detail.

The land is owned by Lyme Regis Town Council and currently used for car parking. Councillors will discuss the project at a meeting of the Strategy and Policy Committee on October 31st.

The project will depend on the library site being made available for housing, including affordable units.

The current halls replaced former World War One huts that housed the first Woodroffe School.

The replacement building started life as the Lyme Regis Leisure Centre but it was felt that this gave a false impression of the facilities available and it was agreed that the name should revert back to the Woodmead Halls.

EVENT OF THE WEEK...

Lyme Matters

by Philip Evans

EVENT of The Week rarely makes it to the top of this column, nor does a funeral.

But I make no excuse for doing so on this occasion.

On Thursday of last week Francesca and I accompanied the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, in representing our town at the funeral service of Chelsea Pensioner Stan Constable.

Stan was one of the two pensioners who made such an impact when they visited Lyme for the town's jubilee celebrations in June.

It was, of course, a sad occasion but Stan was 91 and had lived a long and interesting life and the service in the magnificent chapel at the Royal Hospital Chelsea was very much a celebration.

His life, of course, was not without its moments, the most dramatic of which was having to spend five years in a prisoner-of-war camp in Prussia during the Second World War after being captured at Dunkirk.

During that time he was witness to some brutal and cruel acts at the hands of the Nazis and before being liberated was subjected to a gruelling march out of Prussia before being freed by the Americans.

For my generation, the majority of whom have never had to look the enemy in the eye, the horrors of such an experience are incomprehensible.

We travelled up to London on the train and managed to avoid talking council business on the three-hour journey, which in itself was a bit of an achievement.

Sally caught up on a bit of her council correspondence (a mayor's work is never done) and we talked about what an enjoyable summer it had been despite the awful weather and what an impression Stan and his colleague, Alex Murray, had made in such a short visit. They were with us for four days only but during that time they amazed us with their zest for life and their insistence that they wanted to join in all the jubilee events. At 91 and having to walk aided by a stick, this was no mean feat for Stan.

The only time Stan looked distressed was when we entered The Cobb on the torchlight procession and he whispered in my ear: "Is it much further?" before politely refusing our offer to drive him to the end in Dennis Spacey's Tukxi.

Alex was waiting for us at the gate to the Royal Hospital, a magnificent building which has cared for ex-service men (and now women) since 1682.

Before attending the service we were treated to a three-course lunch in The Great Hall where the table on which the Duke of Wellington was laid out for his funeral is still in use. The walls of the dining room are adorned with boards detailing every battle fought by British Troops since the 17th century.

Lunch consisted of mulligatawny soup, steak and kidney pudding (or a fish alternative) and rhubarb crumble and custard, good wholesome stuff.

The mayor is not known for her appetite but, out of courtesy I suspect, she made a brave attempt but probably did not eat for the next few days!

We had time for a quick tour of the hospital before taking our seats in the chapel and Alex showed us the pensioners' living quarters, currently no bigger than sleeping cubicles with shared bathrooms but which are in the process of being improved with en-suite facilities.

We were greeted at the entrance to the chapel by Lieutenant Colonel Rupert Lucas, Captain of Invalids at the hospital, who thanked us for making the journey.

Later in a tribute to Stan, Lt Colonel Lucas spoke of the kindness the people of Lyme Regis had shown him during their jubilee visit, saying it was something he would never forget.

Stan's grandson, Christian Chanel, also gave a touching tribute to his grandfather, recalling some happy days together when he was a child and how much the family would miss his wise counsel.

We sat opposite a bank of Chelsea Pensioners, all old men, some watery of eye and all with the evidence of brave deeds emblazoned in medals across their chest.

As we listened to the choir singing beautifully I could not help but wonder what wonderful adventures, what dreadful experiences, how many times they had mourned fallen comrades and how many changes they had witnessed during their long lives. And here they were, honouring one of their own, soldiers still, bidding yet another final farewell to a colleague and friend.

It was difficult not to shed a tear.

Afterwards we joined Stan's two daughters and their family for tea in the Chelsea Pensioners Club, the social centre for these grand old men.

And as we ran for our taxi, waving goodbye to Alex, the perfect host, we all agreed that we had been part of something very special, not likely to be repeated in our lifetime.

We nearly missed our train home and had to make a dash for it down the platform.

Event of The Week? Definitely.

Museum exhibition explores wool trade in the Lim Valley

LYME Regis Museum's latest exhibition "Wool in the Lim Valley" opens with a launch party on Friday, October 19th at 6.30pm.

All are invited to enjoy drinks and free admission to see why the wool trade was so important to Lyme from medieval times to the mid-1800s.

From fleece to finished cloth, families of the Lim Valley, including their children, were involved in the production of wool. From the farms where sheep fleeces were packed into woolsacks, through the various processes of scouring, scribbling, combing, carding, spinning, dyeing, weaving and finishing, the people of Lyme and Uplyme contributed. Their workplaces were their homes, the watermills and, later, small factories along the River Lim.

The exhibition is curated by the museum's local history experts Richard Bull and Graham Davies with help from Ken Gollop and Barbara Bull. Barbara will be demonstrating spinning and inviting everyone to have a go during the launch party on Friday.

"Wool in the Lim Valley" runs until November 29th at Lyme Regis Museum, open every day during October, 10am to 5pm, and from the beginning of November open Wednesdays to Sundays, 11am to 4pm.

Richard Bull's research on the subject is also available to download from the museum's website by following the link http://bit.ly/P79Ga0

Printed copies are available from Lyme Regis Museum bookshop by phoning 01297 443370.

Southfield Veterinary Centre

SOUTHFIELD Veterinary Centre is always striving to offer up to date treatment and first class care for all your pets. With this in mind when we needed to expand our veterinary team we looked long and hard for the right person to join our "family" who shared our vision. We were delighted when Alex MacCallum accepted our offer and brings with her skills to compliment that of the present team.

Alex has been qualified for six years and is particularly interested in cardiology (hearts) and oncology(cancer treatment), so far we have all been impressed with her ability and knowledge.

Another exciting development is that we have just launched an "outreach branch" 15 minutes east of Dorchester. Initially we will offer 2 hourly consultation sessions twice a week, Alex running one on Tuesday and Hilary one on Thursday. Where exactly is the branch you might be thinking?

For some years we have referred pets to Dorset Aquadogs in Bloxworth, between the A35 and A31 between Bere Regis and Wareham and have arranged to run our consultation sessions from their premises and possibly even deliver drugs and food for clients in that area to collect. Everything will be arranged through Dorchester initially so for more information please phone the practice on 01305 262913.

Don't forget to enter Pet Factor, run in association with Wessex FM this month with the opportunity to win a photo session with your pet.

Virgin Care have broken new ground by answering public's questions... will others follow?

■ OKAY, we are a long way from having all the information yet. But how refreshing to have a major organisation in Lyme willing to engage in a question and answer in a widely distributed print medium! ("Virgin Care reassures patients that NHS services will continue at medical centre, View from Lyme Regis, October 10th).

Councillor Chris Clipson also deserves some credit for initiating a slightly wider distribution of the full text of the legal opinion on disputed council procedure ("Double standards amd secret meetings", View From Lyme Regis, September 26th). After Councillor Daryl Turner had to work quite so hard to obtain it is there a reason why we mere mortals cannot now see it too?

Perhaps it could be the start of a sustained commitment to the Nolan Principles of openness and accountability, as recently suggested in a View letter by Jill Newton (October 3rd)?

Maybe the details of the Marine Parade shelters operating budget, which I assume was in place when the decision was made to build the community rooms, could be published alongside details of actual operating costs since? Perhaps together with assumptions made then about occupancy rates of those Rooms, alongside actual occupancy figures?

Maybe an explanation could be given of what actual sources of revenue would provide the suggested long term security to LymeNet in a new development on the Woodmead Halls site ("Library and LymeNet to move to Woodmead Halls site?", View From Lyme Regis, October 10th)? And of who would own and manage the new building? And who would get the profits and who would carry any losses? And how it has already been declared that LymeNet would be the beneficiary of any profits, rather than say The Hub or Woodmead Halls or the Marine Theatre or something else?

Will someone soon be explaining what's happened to the public meeting that was promised for this summer on the Community Land Trust? Will someone tell us who will be deciding who would receive profits generated from its affordable housing, as WDDC officers have confirmed are intended to be generated at the Buckland Newton Community Land Trust?

And what of the Jurassic Coast Study Centre, now adopted in the Community Plan? Has there yet been enough detail put anywhere on paper, let alone in a paper, to tell us who would own it, who would benefit from profits, and who carry any losses?

If Virgin Care have broken new ground, will others now follow? Or will we just be told again that "no-one has done anything wrong" even as opportunities are wrongfully lost for members of council and community to learn, and opportunities are wrongfully lost for improvements to be made to interesting new projects through public scrutiny?

Geoffrey Mann,
Woodmead Road, Lyme Regis

Appeal to use events listings

■ I AM appealing to all the businesses and organisations in Lyme Regis which provide entertainment for our visitors and residents.

When the Tourism & Economic Development Committee were looking at our screen in the Jubilee Pavilion on Marine Parade, which gives information on upcoming events, we noticed that there is sometimes a shortage of local events. The screen feeds directly off the database of www.lymeregis.org, which is initially used to populate the "Events" page, and shows upcoming events in the coming week and major events for the months ahead.

There are three reasons why we want Lyme's traders and tourism venues to send events@lymeregis.org details of as many of your upcoming and next year's events as possible, whether aimed at tourists or residents:

1) We want your business or organisation to thrive!

2) We want our screen in the Jubilee Pavilion to look as interesting as possible

3) We are using the database in www.lymeregis.org to extract interesting events for next year's tourism guide which goes to press sometime end November/early December. And the summer in Lyme Regis needs to look as exciting as we can make it to encourage tourists to come to Lyme, and visit you!

Please make it a regular job to send us stuff and attaching thumbnails of images would help too, plus a short description (for a oneline in the pavilion), a fuller description, when and where etc.

Please look at www.lymeregis.org/whats_on/events to see what's needed.

We can't promise to include every event and the staff putting together the "Events" page sometimes need to make editorial decisions!

Councillor Lorna Jenkin,
Chairman, Tourism and Economic Development Committee

Hats off to Lyme Regis traders

DESPITE tough economic times and high street changes, Lyme Regis traders were determined to buck the trend by fully getting behind last month's ArtsFest.

Over 100 took part in the Art Trail, a key feature of ArtsFest, by displaying local artwork in their windows and interiors. ArtsFest organisers judged it easily the best yet in the trail's five-year history.

Art Trail co-ordinator Sylvia Stride and her team were bowled over by the special efforts made by a number of shops in creating special displays, which highlighted the artwork alongside the shops' normal merchandise.

Mrs Stride said: "Without a doubt the most striking display was at the Town Mill Bakery. They actually built special shelves above their counter to feature the amazing paper hats made by Annie Ward as a tribute to women writers like Agatha Christie, Jane Austen and Beatrix Potter. It created a delightful exhibition, a real treat for their customers.

"But there were other shops that went the extra distance to make their window displays integrate their featured artists like A Touch of Vintage did for Ronnie Creswell and Onni Design for Elizabeth Richie.

"In some cases, the artist even worked with the shop owner to create new work to an agreed theme, like Jeannie Kar's cockerels for House of Flowers.

"All in all the ArtsFest artists are keen to express their thanks to the traders for their friendly welcome as well as for the doubling of their sponsorship of the ArtsFest brochure. Such generosity is proof that community spirit is alive and well in Lyme Regis."

James Bond 50th Anniversary, by Michael Delage Pandeli of The MEWS Dorchester.

ON 5th October 2012 to coincide with Global James Bond Day and the 50th Anniversary of Dr No the first movie, Christies of South Kensington will be holding a charity auction of Bond film memorabilia. As the new film Skyfall launches, interest in all things 007 increases. The bond gadget I am going to tell you about is his watch. In the books it was a Rolex Submariner, which was only used as a timepiece or an occasional knuckleduster. When Dr No came out in 1962, the Submariner was on Sean Connerys wrist and remained there until the 70s. Roger Moore wore various digital watches from Pulsar (Live and let die)and Seiko(For your eyes only, Live and let die, and Moonraker). The Submariner came back in the 90s for a short while until it was replaced by the Omega Seamaster.

The Rolex Submariner and the Omega Seamaster have a link with the character of James Bond as he is Commander Bond of the Royal Navy, and both these watches have been Navy issue as they are functional and robust divers watches.

The Navy and Bond connection have made these watches desirable for collectors. Back in 2007 at an Antiquorum auction in Switzerland, a No1 Seamaster Casino Royale limited edition sold for over £7000. In the same auction a Seamaster worn by Pierce Brosnan in the film Tomorrow Never Dies sold for over £40,000.

Today you can have a little Bond magic on your wrist from as little as £1500 for a Seamaster 300 blue dial, as used in the films. Or for about £2000 you can get a 40th Anniversary Bond Seamaster, and from £3700 you can have a Rolex Submariner Date.

All these watches are currently available at The MEWS Dorchester in Trinity Street.

ANTIQUE & VINTAGE TREASURES TO FIND IN THE SURROUNDING AREA

• The Auction House

THIS month's auction on Friday 26th October has more than 400 lots from over 40 vendors covering the whole spectrum of collectables & antiques.

Amongst many interesting lots there are several that deserve special mention regardless of their monetary value.

My personal favourite this month is a very unusual small 19th c. tintype portrait photograph of a Victorian bricklayer.

This early photographic process is usually restricted to studio photographs of men, women & children in their smart 'Sunday-best' clothes so they can have a lasting memory. What makes this particular photograph so strange is that, although it is a posed studio-type photograph, the sitter has foregone a smart suit and has chosen his work smock and hat and is holding up a trowel with a brick on his lap.

The man's identity is unknown with no clues to his origins apart from this and other similar photographs were entered by a vendor from West Dorset. However, the image fascinates me and I believe the gentleman was so proud of his trade that he wanted everyone to know it!

Come to the sale and see if you can recognise this man – he may be an ancestor of yours.

• The Alleyways

SINCE its conception in April 2009 The Alleyways Antiques Centre on the Saint Michael's Trading Estate in Bridport has been constantly evolving.

The building actually sits on the site of the original Stover Sawmill built in the 1800s and has seen many changes over the last 200 years. In fact the Studio Antiques Room was built in the 1800s when rope making was famous in Bridport and was originally called The Tarring House.

Starting with just a few traders in a covered market style setting it can now boast to have well over 30 traders, with an additional 3 moving in before the end of the month. Now with two shop fronts and a main entrance, gone are the chilly winter drafts and the partitioned of areas for each of the traders makes The Alleyways easy to navigate and even more interesting to browse as you enjoying your walk through time.

You'll find items and furniture dating back to the 1700s right up to the 40s,50s & 60s, artefacts, clothing, collectables and much more, and, if we haven't got exactly what you're looking for, just ask and we'll try and source it for you or point you to one of the other 6 amazing shops in the Art & Vintage Quarter who may have it in stock.

The Saint Michael's Trading Estate is quite possibly the oldest trading estate in the United Kingdom with buildings dating back to the late 1800s. It is a thriving hub right near the centre of Bridport boasting a large number of businesses: net making; wood flooring; glass merchant; timber merchant; recycling; carpets; furniture; wine merchant; textiles; the Bridport Auction House; a plethora of Artist Studios; the delightful Red Brick Café; The Art & Vintage Quarter and much, much more.

Just a stone's throw away from the Town Hall, Clock Tower, the thriving and bustling town centre with its eclectic mix of shops, restaurants and bars wander down and visit us to enjoy the friendly atmosphere that is The Alleyways Bridport Antiques Centre.

An evening of melodrama, tension, romance and comedy from Encore Theatre Club

AWARD-WINNING Encore Theatre Club's production of Nicholas Nickleby will be performed in the Marlow Theatre at the Bridport Arts Centre, from Tuesday, November 6th until Saturday, November 10th. A troupe of 'actors' will be in the auditorium round the piano limbering up their vocal chords prior to the performance. The play itself, borrowed from an adaptation of the original, courtesy of Nick Warburton from Cambridge, begins at 7.30 p.m. and is introduced by the author Charles Dickens played by Miles Bell, who has in the past directed many highly successful productions. Well over 30 local actors, directed by Jenny Wiles, are performing what promises to be an evening of melodrama, tension, romance and comedy as the storyline follows the adventures of 19 year old Nicholas Nickleby, played by Harry Ford in his debut role with Encore. Many familiar faces and an array of colourful characters will grace the stage as Nicholas makes his way along in the world. Encore is delighted to welcome many young actors to join the company in what is a celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Dickens! Tickets are available from the Box Office at the Bridport Arts Centre 01308 424204. Tues £8 Weds £9. Half-price for students and under 16s.

Tate guide to give Matisse talk in Bridport

"MATISSE paintings can seem beautiful, sensual, vibrant, difficult, and strange" says Tate guide David Hutchinson. His talk at Bridport Arts Centre on Sunday, October 28th at 7.30pm opens up ways of looking at Matisse's work as a pioneer of modern art. He transforms traditional subjects like still lives, interiors, and portraits with a mastery of colour and design which Picasso envied and valued.

And how did an atheist with a scandalous reputation come to build a chapel for Dominican nuns as his crowning artistic achievement?

Tickets are £7.50, all proceeds going to the Arts Centre Development Fund to enable major improvements to the building. To book call the box office on01308 424204.

TOYAH WILCOX'S BRAND NEW SHOW PLAYS BRIDPORT'S ELECTRIC PALACE

TOYAH Wilcox brings her special autumn 2012 tour, 'The Changeling Resurrection' to the Electric Palace on Friday, October 26th. This incredible Bridport gig celebrates the 30th anniversary of Toyah's chart-topping albums, 'The Changeling', and 'Warrior Rock'; and comes hot on the heels of her acclaimed spring tour which generated five-star reviews and sold-out UK shows.

Toyah's album, 'The Changeling' is often cited as the beginning of the goth movement and was produced by legendary record producer Steve Lillywhite. Toyah's accompanying tour of 1982 produced the live album 'Warrior Rock' which consistently has been referenced as one of the best ever live albums, due to its powerful sound and mesmeric vocals.

Following up her acclaimed '2011 From Sheep Farming To Anthem Tour', which saw Toyah perform songs from her first three albums in the original iconic 80s costumes, springs this brand new live Toyah show. Celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of 'The Changeling', Toyah & her full band, will perform a selection of songs from the album alongside classic material as heard on the 'Warrior Rock' live set-list.

Electric Palace Director, Gabby Rabbitts, is thrilled to bring Toyah to Bridport. She said, "The Changeling Resurrection II is going to be an absolute treat for Toyah diehards, 1980s fans, and every goth and rock music lover. It's going to be an incredible night for Bridport, with yet more incredible talent playing the Electric Palace'.

Toyah Wilcox tickets for the Electric Palace cost £18.50 (plus booking fee) for standing, or £20 (plus booking fee) for seated, and can be purchased in advance at Bridport Tourist Information Centre either in person or on 01308 424901. They can also be brought using www.seetickets.com. Some tickets, unless sold out will also be available on the door.

Tammy Weis at 115 Club, Bridport

Thursday, October 11th 2012

115 CLUB this week were the envy of the Jazz world, not only for the venue and cuisine as usual, but also for the fact of having a wonderful performance from Tammy Weis, a Canadian Jazz singer of the highest standard, together with Tim Lapthorne, rapturous on piano, and Steve Rubie, delicate but exciting, on sax. A unique trio of the best Jazz performers you will ever hear.

The 115 Club originally had Emma Smith, who's the leading vocalist of her generation and hugely talented, booked for the evening. But, on her way to meeting with her pianist in London that evening, she was knocked from her scooter by a taxi and was taken to hospital.

This, however unfortunate, resulted in Steve Rubie, the owner of 606 Club in Chelsea, London, who had arranged Emma to perform, jumping into action, pulling in a favour or two, and driving Tammy Weis from Chelsea to Bridport to perform! This was equally astounding as Tammy's pianist, Tim Lapthorne, also had to travel to the gig on last minute detail!

Although a little while later than planned, the Trio stepped right up and performed beautiful Jazz numbers, with the likes of Summertime being an enormous hit with the patient but very appreciative diners.

The next gig for 115 Club, on Thursday, October 25th, is set to be a lively performance with Sue Hawker & Philip Clouts setting to entertain the diners, Philip who has performed at 115 before, is setting up with Sue Hawker, a delightful vocalist, and founding member of the band Sketch. Sue is a full blown Jazz singer who has a husky, seductive voice and can wade through tracks with the boisterous style of the legend that is Annie Ross.

Sixties folk icon Maddy Prior at the Electric Palace

SOME forty years on from her emergence on the late sixties folk circuit, Maddy Prior is one of the most enduring, influential and respected artists in British music, and The Electric Palace is thrilled to announce that she'll be gracing their stage in Bridport for a very special performance this Thursday, October 18th.

Known for both her work as vocalist of Steeleye Span and numerous solo endeavours, Maddy's career has been a memorable and prolific one, and she remains every bit as engaging an artist today as ever.

Maddy Prior has a history of collaborating with unexpected musicians, looking to approach traditional and written material from interesting and varied perspectives. On this tour she teams up with Giles Lewin, a multi-talented instrumentalist and singer with a classical background diluted by some years in the band 'After Hours'. He is a stalwart of the Carnival Band, another long-time collaboration of Maddy's. They will be joined by Hannah James, who is now a part of Lady Maisry, and has been in the Demon Barbers and Kerfuffle. She brings singing, accordion, clog dancing and youth.

Maddy can also be heard on records as diverse as Ralph McTell's 'Streets…' and Mike Oldfield's 'Incantations', her unmistakable voice and performance style earning her a special place in the hearts of fans all round the globe.

Maddy Prior is playing at the Electric Palace on Thursday 18th October. Tickets are £14 + bf from Bridport Tourist Information Centre on 01308 424901. Doors open at 7pm.

Billy's back in Dorset for blistering Jerry Lee Lewis tribute

'LAST Man Standing' is a full on 50's Rock 'n' Roll tribute show featuring all the classic hits of Jerry Lee Lewis and other great artists including Elvis Presley, Johnny Cash, Roy Orbison, Hank Williams, Carl Perkins, Chuck Berry who defined the era and inspired The Beatles and The Rolling Stones.

Billy Geraghty who plays Jerry Lee Lewis has close connections with Bridport and Lyme Regis having moved to West Dorset in the 1970s. "I'm really glad we're coming to the Electric Palace. If people want to dress up 1950s style and dance the whole night, that'd be great. We want a party atmosphere to give everyone who comes a fantastic night out" said Billy on the Bridport gig. He has been a professional actor and musician appearing in Film, TV and stage productions worldwide for the past thirty years. His first chance to perform came as a student at Woodroffe School in Lyme Regis, appearing in 'The Reckoning' and later, in 'The Poor Man's Friend', two of Lyme Regis playwright Ann Jellicoe's community plays. He played in local rock bands, including 'Gurt Stonkers' a punk/reggae band with brother Sean Geraghty and school friend Ben Kypreos.

After training at East 15 Drama School Billy was lucky to work professionally with West Dorset's award winning Musician/Composer Andrew Dickson who taught him to play several musical instruments and gave him the encouragement to pursue a musical career". In the 1990's Billy landed the role of Buddy Holly in the first production of 'Buddy' in London's West End and spent three years performing in Australia, Canada and the USA as well as launching the first UK touring production. He met Buddy's band, The Crickets and Maria Elena Holly (Buddy's widow) who said, "Whenever I see Billy up there on the stage I just think, there's Buddy and it's always the same feeling".

Jerry Lee is quite literally 'the last man standing'. At 76 he's still out there playing concerts all over the world and shows no sign of hanging up his rocking shoes, recently recording with Led Zeppelin's Jimmy Page. In 1999 Geraghty was approached to play the hellraiser and controversial Rock n' Roll legend in the production 'Great Balls Of Fire.'

"I was a guitarist really and could barely play the piano. I needed some intense training and spent three months in 'boot camp' with Musical Director Neil McArthur to capture Jerry Lee's style of playing". The show was a huge West End hit with Geraghty receiving fantastic reviews and a memorable spot at the 1999 Royal Variety Performance. He has toured the production in Europe and the Far East, including appearances in the Raffles Hotel in Singapore.

In 2002 Jerry's sister, Linda Gail Lewis, a consultant on the West End production, called to say Jerry wanted to meet Billy and to get down to the Docklands Arena where Lewis was performing alongside Chuck Berry and Little Richard. "Just before Linda introduced me to him she said 'He's not gonna like ya' honey, you're too darn close to him… he might shoot ya!', with that she opened the door and in I went . My first impression was that I was being eyeballed as potential lunch by a large shark. Linda Gail broke the tension by introducing me as the guy who had played him in the show. Lewis shook my hand and said, "Yeah, I heard about you. Well, that's a hell of a job for anyone to take on, Boy!"

In Film and TV Billy has featured in many productions including Poirot, Midsummer Murders, Eastenders, Lewis, The Last Detective, Casualty, Holby City, Hollyoaks, Auf Wiedersehen Pet and the BAFTA winning drama No Child of Mine. He's currently filming an episode of 'Endeavour' the new ITV series based on the early years of Inspector Morse.

"Last Man Standing" is coming to The Electric Palace, Bridport, this Saturday, October 20th. Doors open 7.15pm for 8pm start.

Tickets cost £15.50 (plus booking fee) from Bridport TIC (01308 424901) or online at seetickets.com.

Award winner Wes Packer to headline this month's Comedy Café

COMEDY returns to the Bridport Arts Centre this month with the latest Comedy Cafe night.

The popular cafe nights, hosted in the intimate Art Garden Cafe, boasts 5 comedians, for just £5, offering something for everyone's taste.

Headlining this month's gig will be the rich comic talents of welshman Wes Packer. Wes followed in the footsteps of Lee Mack, Peter Kay and Dylan Moran by winning the 2006 So You Think You're Funny? Competition. With his star on the rise Wes appeared at the Montreal Comedy Festival, on ITV's Glee Time and Paramount Comedy's The World Stands Up before taking a two-year break from comedy in 2008.

Wes returned to comedy in 2011 and is now rapidly re-establishing himself on the national circuit, with the comedy cafe catching him just at the right time as he ascends to the top.

Opening the night wil be Omar Hamdi, one of the hardest working new acts on the circuit today. Omar's set is as slick as it is daft and his unique style never fails to get the audience laughing.

Joining Wes and Omar will be new acts Charlie Webster and Nick Jenkin. Nick Jenkin returning to the café, the venue where he did his first ever gig on the circuit.

Resident MC Tom Glover will be hosting the night's proceedings, testing out his latest new material on the Bridport crowd and there will be a chance for the audience to get involved and win a prize with the new caption competition.

"Our headliner this month was just breaking into TV in 2008, now after a two-year break form comedy he has returned better than ever before and I promise you will be in for a treat if you come and see him," Said Tom.

"The café is only a small venue which makes it great for comedy as everyone can get involved with the night. I'd love to see some new faces there this month as well as the return of all our lovely regulars."

The BAC Comedy Cafe will be at 8pm on Friday, October 26th. Tickets are £5 adults/£3 concessions and available from the arts centre box office on 01308 424204.

What to do with a tired coaching inn on the A35?

Pop in and have a free tea or coffee and tea cake at The Coach & Horses to find out*

WITH 15 pubs closing every week, and a double dip recession, some would say it is not the best time to take on a village pub of over 3,000sqm, with 5 letting rooms.

Not that Sandy Duncan the new owner of the Coach & Horses would let this effect her vision of what was required of a pub in 2012.

A coffee lounge with real coffee and tea served the traditional way in China cups from a china teapot. Homemade cakes a Victoria sponge, coffee and walnut cake, scones, and the option of afternoon tea or cream tea served on a tiered cake stand. The vision was to decorate the coffee lounge with real style and eloquence. Reclaimed wood floors, open fires easy chairs and low tables all lit by chandeliers. Creating an atmosphere of calm and tranquillity with daily newspapers to enjoy or free wifi.

Then a bar area with high leather stools and poser tables, a choice of four real ales, accompanied by lagers and a range of new ciders to suit all ages. Fresh juices and smoothies to entice the young and old alike.

The 100 seater restaurant has a theatre kitchen, home to a traditional clay pizza oven and chargrill where you can watch the chef create your meal. The wood floors and chandeliers all add to the ambience, while in the winter months open fires will create an even cosier feel.

Local chef Chris Fleetwood has created a menu full of local produce, from Portland Crab to Ashley Chase Cheese, West Bay Lobster to lemon sole. The Chargrill is bursting with daily special of fish and steak, or fancy a pizza. Thin crust, just like the Italians make them the Coach & Horses can offer thicker crusts, stuffed crust or calzone, make your own, choose your own toppings or have a Coach Special, Buffalo Mozzarella and Rocket.

The main menu has fish and chips with our own beer batter, or Mediterranean lamb burger.

Lunchtime, try a sandwich which includes our homemade fish fingers.

Children can have any meal from the menu for £5.50 or home made chicken nuggets or fish fingers.

Not forgetting the warm friendly service as sweet as the range of homemade desserts. A true treat.

Sundays see the return of the carvery and the Coach & Horses also offer the full menu for those less traditional.

Open from 8am for breakfast and takeaway sandwiches with coffee, tea or Juice, last order for food is 9.30pm.

A children's fancy dress Halloween party will take place at 3pm on October 31st, and there will be live music on in the evening of the 31st with an offer of two pizzas and a bottle of house wine for £20.

The Coach & Horses is an experience to be enjoyed, with new life given to a pub closed since February.

Longs – More than just Fish and Chips

King Street

TUCKED away down King Street in Bridport is Bridports' hidden gem, Longs Fish and Chips. Many people that visit and live in the town know the popular Chippie's location in West Street, but the restaurant in King Street offers so much more, but is, astonishingly, less well known. Walking down king street, you may be fooled from the outside thinking it is just a take away with a few seats, but the restaurant seats up to fifty two, and as the headline suggests, has so much more to offer than just Fish and Chips.

The restaurant in Kings Street wants to shout about what they can offer, and they are right to do so, it really isn't your typical chippie. Of course they serve the highest quality, local, freshest fish and chips around, but the specials menu boasts some wonderful home cooked food as well. Delights such as Breast of Duck, with a honey and ginger sauce and Brie, Potato, Courgette and Almond Crumble, served with vegetables or salad are just an example of what you can expect.

Head chef, and owner, Graham has also created his own recipe for Faggots. Customers can reminisce the good old days, when you would have lined up with your bowl to get faggots, chips, peas and gravy, a real trip down memory lane.

As you would expect, good quality food comes from locally sourced, fresh ingredients. Local suppliers include Framptons Butchers, Bridgets Market, Leakers Bakery, and Daveys Locker so you can be sure that when you eat at Longs, that your fish hasn't been long out of the sea, and your vegetables not long from the garden!

Two Ford models make the 'Top 100 cars' list

■ EVERYMAN MULTI-PURPOSE VEHICLE - Ford S-MAX

TWO Ford models scooped 'best in class' in The Sunday Times' "Top 100 Cars" published this week.

Ford is one of only two brands winning multiple classes in the round-up which ran over two weeks – the other being Ferrari.

The ever-popular Ford Fiesta ranked first in the newspaper's Supermini class, with judges selecting the 1.25-litre 82PS as the pick of the range.

"The Ford Fiesta is easily the most attractive car in its class and is fantastic to drive, " concluded The Sunday Times.

The honour comes soon after the Ford Fiesta ECONetic's victory in the 2012 MPG Marathon when it averaged 108.78mpg over the 370-mile course.

Ford's second category win was in the MPV category, where S-MAX took the top spot. The stylish seven-seater was described as the "everyman Multi-Purpose Vehicle".

The paper continued: "Inside the Ford S-MAX's cabin is flexible, spacious and airy." Also in the MPV class was the Galaxy, making Ford the only company with two entries among the top 10 MPVs, with great handling identified as key to its appeal.

Ford Mondeo was praised in the Family Cars and Estate section for being "classless and capable across the board".

Eco friendly Vauxhall Corsa is now even more thrifty

THE THRIFTIEST Vauxhall Corsa is now even more economical and environmentally friendly.

The three-door Corsa 95PS 1.3CDTI ecoFLEX Start/Stop now achieves 85.6mpg while emitting just 88g/km (five-door: 83.1mpg /89g/km CO2). This is a 2.4mpg and a 6g/km improvement over the 2011 Corsa 1.3 CDTi ecoFLEX (80.7mpg /94g/km).

'In just five years, from the first Corsa ecoFLEX to today, we have been able to reduce consumption and CO2 emissions by 26 per cent, while at the same time increasing performance by over 26 per cent,' said Mike Ableson, Vice President Engineering at Opel/Vauxhall. 'Our customers appreciate this, as does the environment.'

A number of enhancements have been made to reduce consumption and emissions. The turbodiesel is equipped with a variable displacement oil pump that delivers only the necessary oil pressure. It varies oil volume depending on the load in order to reduce the energy needed for oil circulation. The use of special low-viscosity transmission oil also contributes to efficient fuel consumption. These measures are rounded off by an adjustment of engine mapping in the engine control module.

From November 2012 the Corsa will also feature the new generation of Opel/Vauxhall -engineered manual transmissions with a more precise and smooth gear change action. The base transmission was comprehensively re-worked with new gears and modified parts, including the shift rods and fork shaft.

The end result is high shift comfort and optimised operation in cold and warm conditions. New 185/65 R15 low-rolling-resistance tyres also add to the Corsa's eco-friendliness.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE WITH HOWARD LARCOMBE

Seasiders back on top spot

Title pretenders put to the sword at the Fort

IN FORM: Julien Simier scored twice and was voted MoM as Lyme Regis stormed to a 5-1 victory over Millwey.

OPENER: Matt Tolman scored for Beaminster Reserves in their first win of the season.

GREAT GOAL: Ryan Prendeville scored the pick of the goals as Uplyme came from behind to beat Waytown Hounds.

Premier

LYME REGIS 5 MILLWEY RISE 1

LYME Regis took full advantage of Winsham United's postponement at Farway to move to the top of the Premier division for the first time this season.

The Seasiders, for the second week in succession, also laid down a significant marker against one of the newly-promoted teams from division one as they came from behind to beat highly rated neighbours Millwey Rise 5-1.

Lyme thought they were denied an early penalty when in-form striker Julien Simier was felled by a trio of Rise defenders - but referee Jeff Farley thought otherwise.

The Devonians, missing regular centre-backs Michael Knight and club skipper Matt Hall, struck first in a tight first-half when ex-Colyton striker Calum Somers surged onto a ball over the top of the home defence before deftly lobbing over 'keeper Will Meech on the half hour.

But Lyme were level seven minutes later when Steve Batey nodded home midfield colleague Mark Bailey's precise free-kick.

Rise went close before the break with an effort that rebounded off the crossbar.

The Seasiders got their noses in front ten minutes after the restart when Simier netted into the bottom corner from 16 yards.

The killer third goal arrived soon after when Batey headed home his second off the game. And the hosts were finally away and clear when top-scorer Simier cracked a shot into the top corner for his sixth goal of the season.

The scoring was completed five minutes from time when Danny Rudge latched onto a long punt from Meech before slotting home for a classic route-one goal.

Seasiders manager Karl Diment was pleased with his teams showing and gave his Man-of-the-Match award to Simier although the defence also did well to nullify the threat of the Sam Dibling/Somers strike-pairing.

Division One

BEAMINSTER RES 3 SOUTH PETHERTON RES 0

MATT Tolman, Tom Jones and Joe Singleton scored the goals as Beaminster Reserves recorded their first win of the season against a struggling South Petherton side who are still without a goal or a point this season.

NETHERBURY 3 BARRINGTON 1

Netherbury's good start to the season continued, as they overcame a poor first-half performance to grind out a 3-1 home win against a stubborn Barrington side.

The Ambers started sluggishly and could not pass to one another.

It was one such stray back pass to 'keeper Cuff, that went straight into the Duncan May who calmly scored to give visitors a deserved lead.

The Ambers finally got going and drew level on 40 minutes. Lee Quincey was played in on the left flank and his cross fell to Tom Franklin, who scored with an impressive left footed half-volley, to keep his great scoring run going.

After half-time Netherbury started to create their own pressure and had Barrington almost pinned in their own half.

The breakthrough came thanks to substitute John Kingston, who finished neatly under the keeper.

The lead was increased when another sub, Reece Bulman, who had only been on the pitch for five minutes, pounced on a bouncing ball in the box to make it 3-1 with a nice volley.

The pick of the players were Quincey, Carl Ives and Rich Pincombe. "We never really got out of second gear today, but we kept going and ground out a big result, especially bearing in mind some of the other results in our division" said Assistant Paul Cuff.

Division Two

CHARMOUTH 2 CHARD UNITED 3

CHARMOUTH suffered a blow before kick-off on Saturday when young centre-back Shane Dunne pulled a muscle during warm-up and had to be replaced in starting line by Toby Gordon.

Nevertheless the Robins took the lead after five minutes through a fine solo effort from Steve Woolloff.

The hosts doubled their lead two minutes later when several shots were blocked before the ball rebounded to Scott Meyers who wrong footed the keeper with a shot just inside post.

Chard pulled a goal back after 25 minutes when Ricky Anderson, despite claims for offside held his nerve to convert a one-on-one opportunity.

Five minutes before the interval the visitors were level Chard equalised with a penalty.

Chard scored what proved to be the winner 10 minutes from time following a melee in the home goalmouth.

Best for Charmouth was Wooloff and the changed back four played well especially youngster Dan Watson.

Club spokesman Mike Smith said: "The whole team battled well and were very disappointed not to get a point."

DOWLISH & DONYATT 2 PYMORE 1

PYMORE player-manager Matt Tither felt his side were denied two second-half penalties as his side slipped to a hard-fought 2-1 defeat on the Dowlish slope.

Striker Tim Hussey went close for the visitors early on but saw his effort come back off a post and straight into the grateful arms of the Dowlish 'keeper.

The hosts took the lead in the 29th minute but Pymore levelled five minutes later through Adam Cody-Boutcher.

But they were level for less than a minute with Dowlish restoring their slender lead despite claims for offside from the Pymore defence.

Hussey went close again in the second-half when he was hauled down by the 'keeper only for referee Tony Pike to wave away the sustained appeals for a penalty.

Lee Dowle also appeared to be felled in the box late-on but once again no penalty was awarded.

There was still time for Nick Phillips to crack a shot against the crossbar but it wasn't to be Pymore's day and they slipped to fourth in the table.

UPLYME 6 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 1

UNBEATEN Uplyme turned around a 1-0 half-time deficit in emphatic fashion to re-enforce their standing as firm division two promotion candidates.

Rich Shill gave Waytown the lead at the interval but the Swallows responded immediately after the interval in their first ever clash with their west Dorset opponents.

Gavin Fowler equalised seconds after the restart before Jake Bearpark added number two moments later.

The then began to flow was Hounds heads dropped with Adam Neale, Ryan Prendeville, James Beddows and Chris Matthews, for the third game in succession, all netting.

Uplyme manager Rob Coombe was pleased to see his side find some form after a disappointing first 45, he said: "We were very sloppy in the first-half and gave away far too many needless free-kicks.

"Once we sorted that out and applied ourselves we looked good. Gavin's goal was crucial but Ryan's was the pick of the bunch."

Hounds' manager Mark Hughes, who felt his side gave a good account of themselves going down the hill in the first-half, picked out Steve Batterick and Dan Dunford as his top performers.

Division Three

WINSHAM RES 9 LYME REGIS BANTAMS 1

LYME Regis Bantams suffered their biggest defeat in six seasons as they were thrashed at Baker's Field on Saturday.

The hosts, boosted by the inclusion of several first team regulars, proved far powerful for a Bantams side that was also boosted by some Reserve team players.

The Seasiders cause wasn't helped by the second-half dismissal of Ryan Turner. The young defender was booked for a foul by referee Kelvin Charles and then shown a second yellow immediately afterwards for comments made to the official.

Ryan Fifer scored the Lyme consolation with Brian Garrett netting four of the Winsh goals.

West Bay retain Lyme Bay Trophy

Lyme Bay Trophy, Seaton 4-10pm September 29th

HOLDERS West Bay Sea Angling Club retained the annual Lyme Bay Trophy with the club's Mark Wickenden winning the individual competition.

This inter-club competition between Lyme Regis, Honiton, Beer and West Bay has been running since 1970, with host club Beer & District SAC choosing to fish at Seaton where the sea was very calm and clear.

The match was run on a points system with fish being awarded points for difficulty in various species. Plenty of mackerel, garfish and scad were caught in daylight as well as plaice and dabs, whilst a few mullet were caught on float tactics. As it got dark a few pout and dogfish were also caught.

In all fourteen species were caught with some competitors chose to fish the rockier areas of Seaton catching wrasse and bull huss which were measured and returned.

West Bay retained the trophy with a total of 143 points well ahead of runners-up Lyme Regis (78 points) with Beer third (68 points) and Honiton fourth (40 points).

Chris Sweetland of Beer & District, who finished third overall, presented the trophy to West Bay team captain Simon Bowditch.

This year 61 competitors took part and the top three individual scores were as follows:

Mark Wickenden 26 points (West Bay SAC), Simon Skinner 24 points (West Bay SAC), Chris Sweetland 17 points (Beer & District SAC).

Seatown - Thursday October 4th 7-10.30pm

MARK Wickeneden followed up his individual win in the Lyme Bay Trophy by winning this match in which 15 members signed on.

The sea had been stirred up for a few days so there was plenty of colour in the water, with lots of good sized pout caught together with a few dogfish and two good sized thornback rays which were weighed and released.

Wickenden fished on the east of the beach to catch a fine bass of 3330grms using squid as bait.

1st: Mark Wickenden 6470grms 1 bass 3 dogfish 2 rockling, 2nd: P J Wheeler 6010grms 1 ray 3 dogfish 2 pout, 3rd: Simon Bowditch 5680grms 6 dogfish 6 pout 1 whiting, Species pool: S Harwood (3), Heaviest fish pool: M Wickenden Bass 3330grms (7lb5oz).

Abbotsbury - Thursday September 27th 7-10:30pm

Sixteen members fished the match that took place during a falling tide. The fishing was very patchy but those that walked a long way towards West Bexington were rewarded with a few more dogfish, whilst a few whiting are starting to appear.

Eight different species were weighed in with Phil Maggs catching a small conger eel, but it was Lea Windsor who followed up his Wally Pettet Memorial Trophy Two Day Match victory with another win.

Darts legends in Dorchester

FOUR of the world's greatest darts players will be visiting Dorchester at the beginning of November as a prelude to the expected UK tour 2013 The Legends of Darts.

Eric Bristow MBE, the 'Crafty Cockney' and five times world champion, and 'Old Stoneface' John Lowe who won the world title three times, and was the first player ever to achieve the perfect nine-dart leg live on British television, will be pitting their wits against the King-Of-Bling Bobby George who is now the face of BBC darts and was twice the News of the World Champion, and Keith Deller. 'Del-Boy' was world champion in 1983.

The quartet are touring the South West covering four counties in a week, and will be at The Trinity Social Club on Saturday November 3rd.

Each of the legends will play three local players decided by the result of a raffle/competition or auction winners, before playing a knockout competition themselves.

General admission tickets are just £10.00. All ticket and package information can be found on our website - www.legendsofdarts.co.uk or by calling 0843 2890442.

YOUTH CRICKET

Bridport and Dorchester prove too strong

WEEK three of this season's West Dorset indoor League at the Osprey Centre, Portland pitched Portland against Dorchester and Powerstock against Bridport at Under 16s level.

Under 16s

Bridport 143-5 beat Powerstock 78-4 by 65 runs

BATTING first Bridport got of to a flyer, hitting 21 of the first eight balls before C.Patterson (9) was run out.

Ollie Lee (31) and Antonie Azor (67 no) dominated the Powerstock bowling with a succession of powerful strokes as the runs continued to flow.

With the dismissal of Lee, Toby Hibbs made inroads into the Bridport batting taking two wickets in quick succession as Powerstock slowed the run rate.

The returning Azor continued to show class as he mounted a sustained attack on the bowling and with good support from M. Edwards (8) enabled Bridport to close on an impressive 143-5.

Bridport struck in the second over of Powerstock's reply with Will Holmes producing an excellent caught and bowled to dismiss B.Mullins for four.

Despite an aggressive 19 not out from R.Gillis and a grafted 17 from B.Browning, Powerstock never got on top of well marshalled Bridport attack and fell well short of the required total.

Under 16s

Dorchester 88-1 beat Portland 82 -5 by 5 wickets

ASKED to bat Portland got off to the worst possible start losing Dylan Riley (4) cleaned bowled by Nick Voss in the first over. James Caldwell accounted for Tyler Penny (1) in the next over as Portland struggled against a strong Dorchester side containing three county players.

The Islanders fought back and Jack Matthews (15) and Luke Strong (15) kept the runs ticking over. With a defiant 21 from Portland Man-of-the-Match Liam Tewkesbury aided by Tom Dalkins (8 no) they closed on 82-5, a total that Portland coach Grant Neven felt was below par in this form of cricket, but represented a fine fight back against an outstanding Dorchester side containing some of the county's best at this age group.

Portland's bowling attack were always up against it as Dorchester's batsman punished anything wayward and with all the top five having to retire having reached 25 or more, it was left to the returning Dan Morris (30 no) to hit the winning runs with another straight drive as Dorchester ran out comfortable winners in the seventh over.

Neven added: "'Well played Dorchester; they have some outstanding players at this level and their class shone through today.

Portland should take heart. They never gave up, produced a fighting display full of grit and determination, and despite the loss can hold their heads high."

BRIDPORT SQUASH

Bridport looking like promotion candidates

West Hants 6th 4pts Bridport 3rd 17pts

TABLE-topping Bridport Squash club's 3rd team are gearing up for a promotion push this season, and this was made evident in this emphatic display of powerful squash against an experienced West Hants side writes Roger Lewis.

First on court for Bridport was Steve Hodder who is improving in his match play with every game. He stamped his authority on his opponent Tom Gordon right from the start.

The hosts No 1 had no answer to Hodder's wide range of shots , and in the end the Bridport man's tight play induced Gordon into mistakes at critical times to give him victory by a 9-5, 9-0, 9-0 scoreline.

Bridport's No 2 Ed Mamanta who is in devastating form at present, gave his opposite number Loraine Page a torrid time in a display of varying squash shots.

His strategy of using the full volley coupled with the odd drop shot was too good for his opponent and he cruised through to record a very good 9-0, 9-2, 9-7 victory.

The game of the match was at No 3 where Bridport's Paul Cross was pitted against a very useful opponent in Steve Alcock.

Cross once again showed what what a good player he is turning out to be by producing a display of controlled squash when it really mattered by keeping Alcock at the back of the court using the effective hard hitting shot and alternating the odd boast shot.

This proved too much for Alcock as Cross recorded a very good 9-3, 9-6, 6-9, 9-5 victory.

The very reliable Robert Muir is in a rich vein of form at the moment and West Hants captain Peter Trayler found the going tough from the start against his forceful and powerful opponent.

It was Muir's domineering style of play that paved the way for an excellent 9-2, 9-3, 9-3 victory.

Martin Jennings is also learning about matchplay, and learned a lot from the very useful and experienced Andy Crowe, the hosts No 5.

Although Jennings aquitted himself very well throughout, it was the lob and drop shot tactics employed by Crowe which was the deciding factor.

This match was very much a learning curve for Jennings and with more experience he will learn to counter attack, consequently turning the 6-9, 0-9, 1-9 defeat into victories.

BEAMINSTER LADIES HOCKEY

A travesty of justice

Beaminster 0 Salisbury 3rd 4

IF EVER there was a travesty of justice, then this was it!

Beaminster Ladies hockey team's smattering of experience and large dollop of young players battered Salisbury for 90 per cent of the game, yet lost 4-0.

Three sloppy goals from short corners and a goal scored at the second attempt made this result look like a one-sided affair, but it was anything but that.

Beaminster might have had a hatful but were denied by the visiting keeper who made six great saves, and by two clearances off the line and the post.

tormented their opponents

Masterminded in midfield by Julia May, the home side tormented their opponents from the off and forced a short corner within 30 seconds of the start.

Their second inside two minutes saw Jenny Clark's shot from May's injection beat the keeper but blocked on the line.

On four minutes a brilliant one handed save by the Salisbury stopper prevented May scoring with an excellent lofted shot bound for the top corner.

Unfortunately a minute later Beaminster were behind when they failed to clear a short corner, and the ball was scrambled home.

Two minutes later Salisbury had scored a second when once again the home side failed to deal with a short corner.

Beaminster were not downhearted however and May released Phoebe Stewart following a jinking run, but the keeper made a good save spreading herself to smother the ball.

May then had her angled shot from a short corner routine scrambled off the line.

Salisbury continued to ride their luck, particularly on the half hour when May's thumping shot beat the 'keeper but slammed against the foot of the post, before Clarke was thwarted by the keeper saving at her feet.

The second-half was almost a mirror image of the first. Clarke was frustrated twice in the first ten minutes by the keeper first spreading herself to beat away the striker's reverse stick effort, and then saving at her feet in a goalmouth scramble.

With Ali White sweeping behind her defence and defender Taryn Critchard more than compensating for her lack of pace with some great positional play, it took Salisbury until six minutes from time to produce their first strike on goal from open play, and they scored.

A shot was parried by Claire Hughes but scrambled home at the second attempt.

To add to Beaminster's misery they conceded a fourth from another short corner a minute from time.

There were some nice touches from some of the younger and newer players, but they must learn to attack the ball more aggressively and win tackles, and to chase back when they are beaten; all too often it was left to the experienced ones to cover for them.

INDOOR BOWLS

Dorch beaten by a dozen

BRIDPORT wrapped up their summer season friendlies with an overall 82-70 win against Dorchester.

John Davies, David Aylott, Mary Eastman and Brian Rumble led the way with a 25.14 win after trailing 8-12. Lyn Sandall, Robin Pither, Ann Parkins and David Eastman went 13-2 up early on, finally winning 25-21.

Peter Sandall, Bernard Waterman, Mary Hansford and Jenny Harding dropped a four count on the final end to lose 17-18, while Sylvia and Mike Fletcher, Penny Pither and Derek Fitzgerald dropped a five count on their final end to go down 15-17.

The winter season started with a 82-66 overall win against Gillingham.

Gill Hunt, Sue Gentry, Phil Hedges and Brian Rumble were top dogs, winning 28-8.

Chris Minas, Joan Higman, Mike Fletcher and Brian Pratt followed up with a 31-16 win. John Groves, Mary Corfield, Martin Wilton and Theresa Castle drew 15-15.

Meanwhile, Rosie Wilton, Dennis Minas, Mike Higman and Jenny

Harding went down 18-27.

In their first Wessex League match Bridport men picked up two points against Bournemouth thanks to a 21-17 home win by Max Dare, Bob Hill, Keith Gentry and Ken Enticott.

Dovell double seals point for Bridport

Larkhall Athletic 3 Bridport 3
Toolstation Premier – att:

BRIDPORT earned a good point at Plain Ham on Saturday with Ryan Dovell scoring a double to take his total to five so far this season.

An already heavy pitch was made more difficult by a torrential hailstorm just as the game started which made conditions even trickier and maybe helped in Bridport taking the lead after just four minutes.

Shane Evans put Dan Wise free down the right and with Dovell ready to pounce at the near post, Larks defender Gary Thorne turned his low near post cross into his own net.

The hosts composed themselves after the shaky start and put the Bees under a lot of pressure for the remainder of the first-half.

However the Bridport defence was in good form with Sam Filkins producing two good saves in slippery conditions, although Larkhall were unlucky when Luke Scott hit the crossbar and Ryan Hayter hooked the ball away.

Bridport' attacks were limited but Dovell had Larks keeper Chris Snoddy scrambling to collect a poor back pass.

It was much the same at the beginning of the second-half but slowly Bridport took the game to the Larks in what became a very open game.

Dovell just beat Jamie Filkins to Wise's pinpoint centre but his header was well saved by Snoddy, before Filkins' first time side footed shot beat the keeper but was hacked off the line by Jake Hiscocks.

The ball ran out to Russell Legg but he couldn't get enough purchase on his shot.

Larkhall got back into the game with two quick goals, both of which had a touch of fortune about them. The first followed Sam Filkins' throw out to Evans which skidded off the greasy surface and out of play.

A quick throw-in found Jamie Lyons who crossed to Simon Gilbert. With his back to goal the striker turned and bent his shot around the Bees keeper from 15 yards.

Minutes later Chris Clarke instead of clearing the ball played Chris Luke into trouble who was dispossessed by Gilbert.

Alan Hill playing his last game before leaving for Australia was adjudged to have tripped the striker inside the box as he tried to rectify the situation, and Gilbert got up to send Filkins the wrong way from the spot.

Bridport did not become downhearted however and equalised when sub Jamie Morgan produced a magnificently measured diagonal cross for Dovell to thunder a header home at the far post.

Not to be outdone, the Larkhall substitutes had a hand in putting their side back in front as the game ebbed and flowed.

The referee allowed play to continue when Kieran Baggs tripped Morgan, albeit accidentally, as he went to challenge him, allowing him to cross to Anthony Conradi who netted at the second attempt.

Bridport's response was almost immediate and Wise showing his how deadly he can be, produced another precision cross for Dovell to head back across and beyond Share to level once again.

Dovell might have stolen all three points in the dying moments but after cutting in from the left, he just failed to get enough bend on his right foot shot which passed the wrong side of the upright.

Draw felt like a loss

Bridport Reserves 1
Hamworthy United Reserves 1
Dorset Premier Division

BRIDPORT Reserves conceded a last minute equaliser after looking to have done enough to ensure all three points with a stunning Jack Scovell goal midway through the second-half.

It was no more than the Bees deserved having been the better team in the first half, but they failed to kill off their mid table opponents, and just as it looked as if they had hung on for the three points, Joe Wood picked out sub Toby Holmes who drew keeper Jamie Fry before sliding his shot under him and inside the near post.

Bridport were bolstered by the inclusion of Matt Condliffe who with a three match suspension due to begin next week, stood down from the first team.

His influence was noticeable, although it ended peculiarly in the last act of the game when he was the victim of mistaken identity when he was booked by referee Peter Hoffman during an altercation involving several players, when he was stood some fifteen yards away.

A superb sweeping move in the second minute between Michael Hailu, Scovell and Tristan Gale ended with Scovell taking the return but his shot did not carry enough power to unduly worry Hammers keeper Doug Share.

Condliffe however tested Share five minutes later with a brilliant 25 yard left foot volley that had the keeper flying across goal to push his shot away. Nevertheless he did beat Share on 14 minutes.

After winning the ball in midfield he fed Gale who laid the ball back into his path. His thumping angled shot beat the gloveman but smashed against the near post and ricocheted back across the goal and to safety.

Bridport continued to dominate the first-half to the extent that it wasn't until the 41st minute that Hamworthy mustered a shot on goal, and that was a fairly innocuous one from Matt Jones which was straight at Fry.

The visitors improved after the break and briefly threatened with Wood's header from Jan Muller's free-kick just clearing the bar.

The Bees responded immediately and when Muller was booked for a foul on the 25 yards from goal, skipper Ashley Clarke should have hit the target with a free header from Condliffe's free kick.

Back at the other end Fry got down at his near post to turn Wood's shot on the turn behind, before Scovell shot following a run struck Share in the chest and rebounded to safety.

The striker was causing problems with runs along the left byeline. His first effort was blocked by Share at the near post, before he was successful with his second on 67 minutes.

After beating a defender he smashed a shot over the 'keeper and just inside the far post from the acutest of angles to give Bridport the lead.

He tried his luck again soon after ,but instead of this time laying the ball back to Carl Bulman who was free, was greedy and his shot was blocked out.

Bridport had a real let off on 71 minutes following some poor defensive play , but twice shots on goal were blocked, the second ricocheting off first Adam Stordy and then Fry's backside before going for a corner.

With three minutes remaining Bridport could have closed the game out when Condliffe broke down the left and supplied a glorious crossfield pass for Gary Bulman free on the right. However he delayed his shot a fraction too long and Share raced out to save at his feet.

The Bees paid for the miss with the Hammers late blow, and the game finished on an unsavoury moment when Jones and Bridport sub Adam Steele clashed evoking a skirmish of jostling players and the booking of Jones and the bystanding Condliffe and not Steele.

Bees manager Robin Townsend speaking to View Sport after the match said: "We are all disappointed we didn't take all three points. We were clearly the better side in the first half but didn't take our chances, and at 1-0 we should have seen the game out.

"It feels like a loss, and we still have one or two players doing their own thing instead of following the game plan, but the display bodes well for the future."

Strikers give Hitchcock lift

Bridport Thirds 4
Poole Borough Reserves 2

THIS was only Bridport Thirds second game of the season, and having missed several Saturdays since losing to early pace setters Poundbury Rovers, manager Andy Hitchcock was anxious that his side get back to winning ways despite the lack of match fitness against Poole Borough Reserves who have also made a good start.

He was pleased therefore that his strikers Ali Kamara and Chris Symes both grabbed a brace each, as the Bees comfortably saw them off.

With a couple of late withdrawals and no keeper, Hitchcock was struggling to get a side.

Former midfielder Richard Middleton came to his rescue, agreeing to play in goal, but soon found himself picking the ball out of the net when the Hornets striker blasted a 25-yard shot past him.

The Bees struggled for ten minutes to get to grips with their winged cousins, but finally after Chris Herbst had gone close with a spectacular volley that just cleared the far post, Kamara brought them level with a superb volley from the edge of the box after Borough had failed to clear a corner.

They took the lead just before the break. Poole thought they should have been awarded a free-kick close to the Bridport goal, but when their protests were ignored, the hosts broke quickly and Kamara unleashed a scorching shot from 25 yards which went in off the crossbar.

They increased their lead midway through the second half when the strikers combined; Symes starting the move before finishing clinically after Kamara had returned his pass back into his path.

Poole took advantage of some poor defending to reduce the deficit after Luke Hayter had headed the ball up in the air in the goalmouth, but Symes made sure of all the points when Ashley Walkey rode two tackles before playing in Symes who scored at the second attempt.

A relieved Hitchcock said: "It was good to get the game on, and to win. It took us a little while to get going, but we finished well and the match practice will do us good.

"It was great to see the strikers working in harmony and it's got our season going. We still have to get some of them believing in themselves after the good finish we had last season, but the signs are good."

Hitchcock has now assumed control of the team with former manager Jason Forbes having attended his last game before moving to Salisbury.

Hitchcock hopes to name a couple of assistants in the next week or so to help him.

Postponed game rearranged

LAST week's Edwards Charity Cup quarter-final tie between Netherbury and Pymore, which was postponed last Thursday due to a waterlogged pitch, has been rearranged, and will be played tomorrow (Thursday) ko 7.45pm.

Duo to step down

THE Lyme Regis Bowls Club Annual Dinner and Presentation evening was held at Lyme Regis Golf Club on Saturday WRTIES PAUL MOFFITT.

Both Captain, John Beadsley, and President ,Reg Winterborne, are bowing out this year. Reg has been our President for the last seven years, and he paid tribute to all those members that had helped him along the way.

John also thanked members for their support in what has been a very tough year, mainly down to the high cancellation rate due to the bad weather.

The trophies were presented by John's wife, Marnie, to whom he presented a bouquet in recognition of her support over the past two years.

The highlight was probably the presentation of the 'Clubman' award which is presented by the Captain to the person whom he considers to have given an outstanding contribution to the Club.

This year's winner was Sue Wood (pictured below) who, with the help of her loyal band of helpers, has been a revelation as catering officer.

SCRUM DOWN: RUGBY ROUND-UP

BY KEITH JENKIN

Last gasp Yeatman kick clinches win

I WAS delighted to be invited to join the great and good for a pre-match buffet lunch at PUDDLETOWN before watching the club take on CRICKLADE in the local vase competition, and a very convivial hour ensued before the main event of the afternoon took place: and what an exciting and close run thing that was.

For the remaining local clubs however last Saturday was full of frustrations. DORCHESTER, who had been eliminated in a previous round, were without a cup game. WEYMOUTH'S opponents SUPERMARINE, withdrew on Friday evening; while BRIDPORT were given a walk over by WARMINSTER.

The Bridport second side's game at Calne seconds too did not take place, while Weymouth seconds and thirds had both received byes.

PUDDLETOWN 20 CRICKLADE 19

THE playing surface was in far better shape than it had any right to be, given the recent rain.

There was a stiffish breeze blowing however, and the home side faced it during the first period. In fact it was the visitors who settled first and the first ten minutes play took place in home territory.

The defence coped however and eventually won a penalty that they cleared back to halfway.

A little surprisingly, Puddletown took the lead during what was really their first meaningful attack of the game after 15 minutes.

They won good set piece ball in their own twenty two. Skipper Yeatman kicked ahead. His chip fell into space and was well chased by his co-centre Terney.

He regained possession and, although held by the home cover, managed to find his winger House in support, and he got over 15 yards from the posts to complete a move that had gone all of 75 yards. The conversion kick was unsuccessful.

The tables had seemingly now turned, for the next few minutes belonged to the home side and it scored again when, after a period of pressure, number eight Chidley barged his way over some from close range halfway out.

Again the conversion slid just wide, but Puddletown were now ten points up with the game now half an hour old.

I felt at this stage that they had the ability to really pull clear. But they began to concede penalties and their opponents, kicking well from hand, began to win the territorial battle and, although they did not trouble the scoreboard before the break, they had got back into the contest by the time the half-time whistle sounded.

At this stage I felt that, although Puddletown held a deserved ten point lead and would have the breeze in their favour throughout the second period, matters were far from settled.

Cricklade started the second-half as they had done in the first, but this time their efforts bore early fruit.

They reduced the deficit early on when, after a series of pick and drives had take play close to the home line, they sent the ball wide and one of their midfield slipped his marker and ran round to the posts.

The extras were duly added and Cricklade were back in the game with a vengeance after just five minutes of the half.

Puddletown had lost influential centre Terney with a bad cut at the interval and really needed to settle at this stage. They got back into their opponents' half however and won a penalty after their opponents had obstructed.

The kick at goal slid wide however and the visitors broke out almost immediately and took the lead. A speculative kick ahead bounced and foxed the home full-back, a follower fly hacked on, a little enthusiastically I felt, but he knew better than I for the ball came to rest over the home goal line and Crickade won the touch down race.

Neither side's place kicker was coping with the breeze at this stage and the try remained unconverted but, nevertheless the visitors now led 12-10.

Puddletown now had to regroup and rally, and they did so when, with 15 minutes left, they kicked a penalty to the corner, won the ensuing lineout and, after a couple of thrusts close to the fringes sent the ball to the backs.

Centre Yeatman made the initial incursion, putting Watts, now playing at centre in Terney's absence, into space. He ran strongly and got over 15 yards in from touch. Skipper Yeatman's place kick was accurate and, importantly took his side out of penalty goal range.

Cricklade's response was immediate however. Within five minutes they had charged down a kick out of the home twenty two, tidied up possession and spun the ball wide for their right winger to get over some five yards in from touch to level the scores.

Both place kickers had seemingly come to terms with the awkward breeze and the extras were added with an excellent kick from near touch, and the score line now stood at 17-19 with some ten minutes left.

It was do or die for the home side now and, credit to them, they attacked and won a penalty on their opponents' twenty two and some halfway out.

Yeatman held his nerve and trusted his method however, and kicked the goal that took his side into a one point lead.

More was yet to come, for the visitors won two kickable penalties in injury time but could not convert either.

Puddletown then had to clear from a five yard scrum during the time added on.

They duly did so, and the whistle for no side went with the play on the Cricklade twenty two.

This game, while most enjoyable for the neutral viewer, was far too close for comfort as far as the home faithful were concerned. For my part, I thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon.

PREVIEW

THE league campaign reclaims centre stage for local clubs on Saturday. WEYMOUTH face SUPERMARINE for the second week running, having been given a walk over by them seven days ago.

The Swindon club lie at the bottom of the Southern Counties Division having not won a game, and I do not think that they will improve their statistics by 5pm on Saturday next.

PUDDLETOWN travel to take on WEYMOUTH 2nd for a game that will, I suspect, take place on an adjoining pitch to the Supermarine encounter.

The home side's cohesion has suffered somewhat this season so far, due in the main to first team calls, (that is what happens to second sides) and I think that the visitors will certainly start this one as favourites.

DORCHESTER too have been forced to select from a large player base thus far. They entertain WALCOT, a side who have won just once so far this term and whose other results tend to indicate that this game should end in a home win. If Dorchester can field its strongest side, it should win with some comfort.

BRIDPORT travel to take on SHERBORNE 2nd. The home side, while hardly emulating their first team who are going great guns in the Southern Counties Division currently, have not had a bad start to their campaign, winning as many as they have lost. Bridport however have started the season well and I expect their one hundred per cent record to remain intact on Saturday evening.

As to the second sides, Bridport seconds should have too much for visitors, North Dorset fourths, while Dorchester seconds should come back from Fordingbridge with a win.

Weymouth thirds travel to Bournemouth fourths and will be hoping to repeat the success of their last outing.

FIXTURES - 20th October

Lyme hit top spot

by Howard Larcombe
howard@pemedia.co.uk

DOUBLES from Julien Simier and Steve Batey saw Lyme Regis brush aside the challenge of premier division new boys Millwey Rise on Saturday.

The East Devonians, under the management of ex-Lyme favourite Kevin Turner, arrived at the Davey Fort boasting an impressive unbeaten record and bristling with confidence.

Millwey took an early lead through Calum Somers who, along with strike partner Sam Dibling, has appeared in the South-West Peninsula league this season.

But the Seasiders stormed back to take the game in impressive style with Dan Rudge rounding off a 5-1 win to move to the top of the Perry Street League Premier division.

On Saturday Lyme travel to Slades Cross to take on Combe Reserves as they begin their defence of the Coronation cup and the opportunity to become the first team in the competition's history to lift the trophy four times in succession.

After a week off Lyme Regis Reserves return to division one action with the visit of promotion candidates Misterton (2.30pm ko).

Meanwhile Lyme Regis Bantams will look to bounce back from a 9-1 mauling at Winsham United Reserves with a trip to Seavington to take on division three table-toppers Luso-Chard.

Uplyme remain well set for a tilt at promotion from division two after a 6-1 hammering of Waytown Hounds.

Saturday brings an early season six-pointer with a trip to rivals Pymore.

At the other end of the table Charmouth threw away a 2-0 lead and were beaten 3-2 at home by unbeaten Chard United who move up to third. Steve Woolloff and Scott Meyers scored for the Robins travel to Wadham School to face Crewkerne Rangers.

Lyme Regis Under 15s continued their strong start to the season with a 6-0 win at Broadstone. Joe Wootton (3), Rhys Hayter (2) and Brad Rowe scored the goals.

The under 13s defeated Weymouth 3-0 at the Davey Fort with Ben Prosser and Finley Maclean amongst the goals.

To complete a clean-sweep for the Seasiders' youth teams two goals from Ben Cullimore saw the under 10s come from behind to maintain their 100 percent record and beat Perry Street 2-1.
